I began as the wellhouse, an inanimate object, yet through the years I have become endowed with life. A world passes my arches each and every day. Students, faculty and staff walk the well-worn paths toward registration, classes, the Key, the dormitories—toward the future. I gaze at those who pass; I see the buildings; those old and those as yet untouched by time. The recurrence of events, though the faces change, links past, present and future into a sense of oneness transcending the barriers of time.

I see the students pass my arches each day as they go to class, from the dormitories, fraternity houses and from home. They walk by me toward the Main Building, the Science Building, the Journalism Building; there is a never-ending flow of students and staff. I see them as they pass with eager or reluctant step. There is learning in the buildings, where ideas of the past challenge the thinking of the present; there is freedom in learning for he who seeks the truth. There is learning in the classroom, and education in casual conversations in the Key. I see all these things, as I have seen them in the past, and again I marvel at the eternity of time.

I see the students returning to their housing units after a day of classes. I realize that education is adjustment to living, to contact with fellow members of the college community. The laughing co-eds, the boys engaged in serious conversation, the after-dinner cigarette in the sorority rooms, too are education, for without the adjustment to personal situations, all knowledge offered by the college itself is futile, for there would be no way to communicate.

I see the campus family at play, there is time for a bridge game, a coffee-date in the Key. Education is those social adjustments which prepare the student for life. The campus passes me on the way to hear the "Messiah," or to attend the Homecoming dance. The names of the activities have changed. But the activity, the enjoyment, the relief from academic pressure . . . all these remain the same.

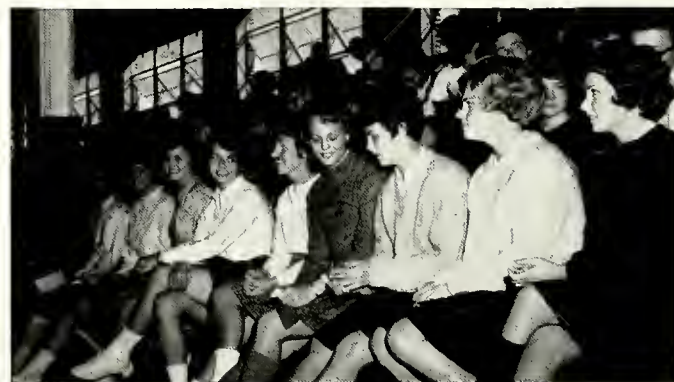

I see the students en route to activities. The theater offers satisfaction for those interested in this plastic art; there are clubs which recognize outstanding achievement, publications which foster the expression of ideas. Clubs and organizations offer each student a chance to apply knowledge he has learned in the classroom, an opportunity to develop along the areas in which he is specifically interested. Clubs change, students change, but interest in the application of knowledge is constant.

I see the cheerleaders, the spectators, the players, the visiting team as they pass me on the way to a game. I know that athletics, the physical fitness which tempers the body, is an invaluable asset to education. I see the activity on the tennis courts, the football practices, the physical education classes outside, the glow brought about by health, by good sportsmanship. There is a never-ending pattern; the sports differ; the satisfaction remains the same.

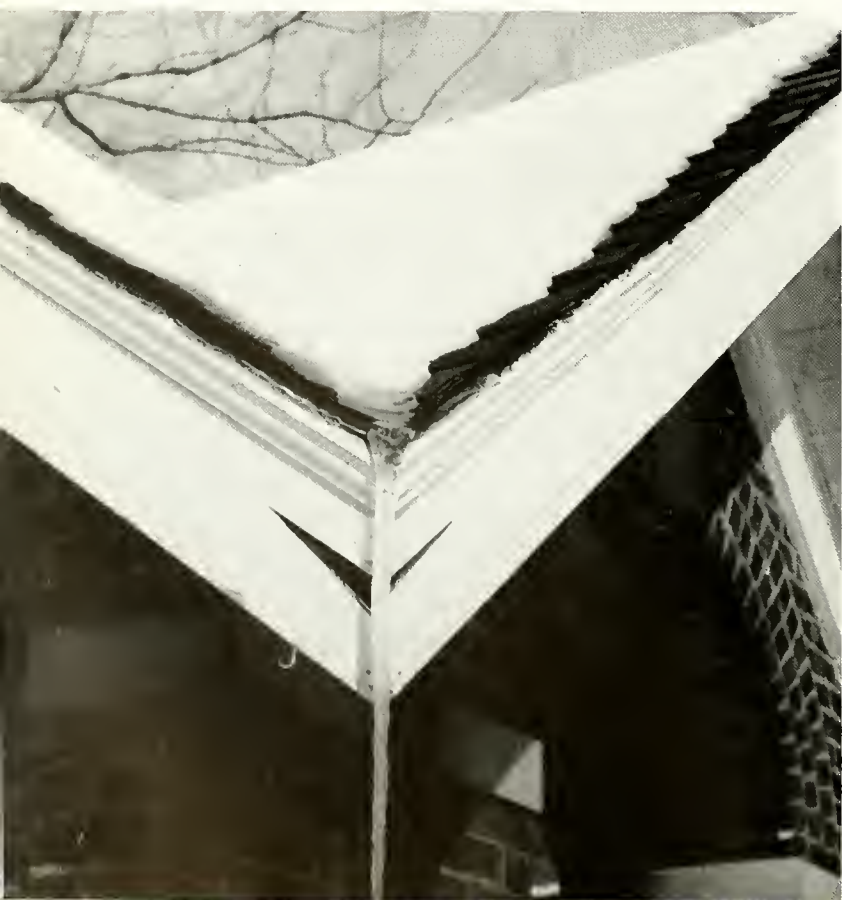

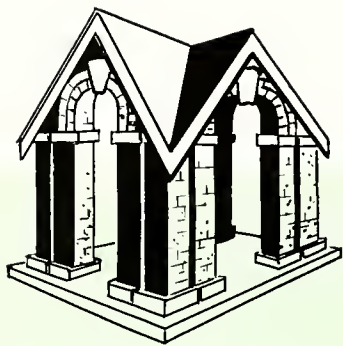

I view the changes wrought by time upon the physical aspects of the college; I view the recurring flow of students as they pass my arches. Their faces change, and the instructors change. Buildings, classes, dances, coke dates, final week, graduation—these are constant; they never change. They exist solely for the student and faculty who enter into a close relationship with the entity of the college. Franklin is a constant; its citizens are the variable factor.

I see the population of the college as it passes me on the way to do business. The trip to town for supplies, the payment of fees, student employment, the business of book-buying, the intricate finances of living . . . I see the college function economically. There is education in this adjustment to the world of business. A world passes my arches every day. The flow of recurring events links the past with those yet to come.

SPECIAL EVENTS

The first weeks are hectic

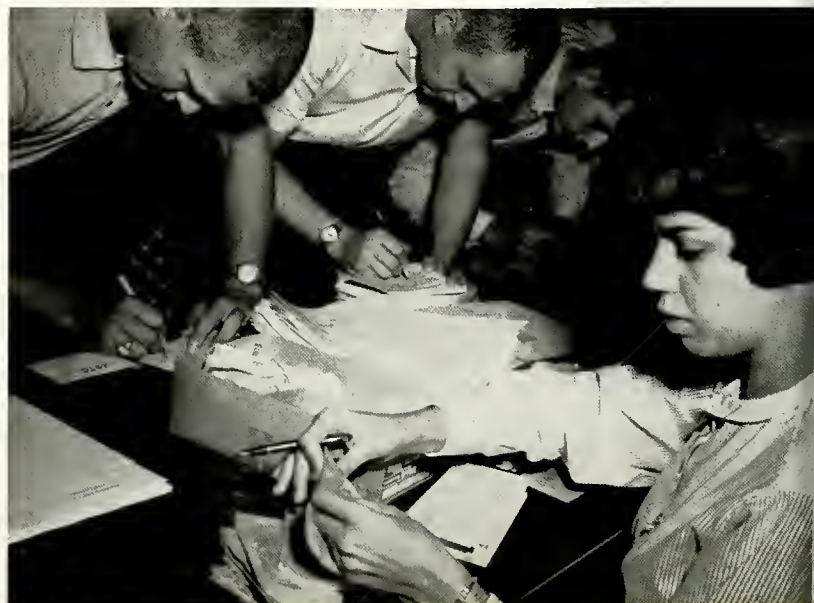

Students voting is a year round activity.

Tammy Hickson adjusts the volume microphone control as she broadcasts over the facilities of W.F.C.I., the college radio station.

The first weeks of the fall semester are busy ones for both the freshmen, and the returning upper-classmen as well. Registration, the beginning of social events, and class projects forecast the activities of the year.

With Becky Lind's assistance, these students register their automobiles on registration day.

Following the busy Rush Week days, the campus prepares for the activity of Homecoming weekend, house decorations work, and queen elections. Fraternities and sororities combined efforts this year in building Homecoming decorations. Privy Council begins the actual activity of the week before the Homecoming game, providing the students with an opportunity to spend a free evening at the Key, with late hours, and free cider and doughnuts.

Rush Week begins those hectic weeks of the fall semester. The girls have endless hours of discussion after rush hours—it's called "hash".

Privy Council introduces the freshmen to an old Franklin tradition. Women leave the dorm by the back doors after the privy burns and men line the sidewalk to grab their girls as they come out.

Homecoming is rewarding:

Into the creek go the sophomores at the tug-of-war. A freshman victory entitled them to remove their beanies.

Phi Delta Theta and Zeta Tau Alpha takes first place in House Decoration.

After the crowning at half-time, the Homecoming queen and her court watch the second half of the game between Franklin and Indiana Central. Margie Mailath, Zeta Tau Alpha; Janet Edmondson, Pi Beta Phi; Judy Roscoe, Delta Zeta; Queen Debby Brooke, Delta Delta Delta; Carol Lane, Franklin Independent Women; and Ann Blumenthal, Unaffiliated.

The first all-campus social event is Homecoming. Fraternities and sororities work frantically together to decorate the fraternity houses for the competitive judging. The team practices for victory. A queen and her court are elected; privy council is awaited and enjoyed. The Homecoming dance climaxes the weeks of activity.

The event not only unites the campus and coordinates its social activity, but provides enjoyment for returning alumni.

It is a time of excitement and anticipation, that thrill when the winning house decoration is announced, the release of the names of the queen and her court, and the hard-fought football game itself. A torchlight parade, preceding the winning of the game, roused school and team spirit.

Homecoming was successful—a winning team, a lovely queen and court, varied-theme house decorations.

Pretty Debby Brooke, a sophomore from Fort Wayne, was chosen by the vote of men to reign as Homecoming Queen.

Alumni president Gene Henderson crowns Debby 1963 Homecoming Queen.

"We won!" The trophy for the winning house decorations is presented to representatives from the team of Phi Delta Theta and Zeta Tau Alpha, Dan Jones, Jane Reasoner and Ron Harrington.

Competition brings victory

Pi Beta Phi and Lambda Chi Alpha worked together to create a giant cyclops and mountain, with the theme, "F.C. will cy-clop-ber I.C."

Delta Zeta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon built a grizzly and a greyhound bus proclaiming a Franklin victory, "Leave the driving to us."

Coach Stewart "Red" Faught and Quarterback Tom Southern, watch a critical play.

A torch-light parade the evening before the game, a bon-fire and pep session cheered the team and coach.

Delta Delta Delta and Kappa Delta Rho built a huge snow-ball with a grizzly bear and a victory slogan.

"Every litter-bit helps," says the slogan of the Independent Women and Men's house decoration.

Construction means growth

Since last May when the ground was broken for construction of the B. F. Hamilton Memorial Library, the entire campus has watched the building grow with eager interest. The building is near completion with plans to vacate Shirk Library in August.

The new three-story building will have a special room which will house the David Demare Banta collection, a special lecture hall and lounges.

The Library will be officially dedicated next fall.

Margo Perry, Delta Delta Delta, from Franklin, was crowned queen at annual Kee-Ko-Nut Dance.

Beauty adds a bright note

Queen Margo and her court: Susan Dunn and escort Keaney Sloop, Sharon Lewis and escort Dick Horn, Queen Margo and escort Jay DeVoss, Maxine Mills and escort Chuck Bentz and Karen Jones and escort Charlie Baker.

Highlighting the annual Ke-Ko-Nut Dance, sponsored by Blue Key and Student Council, was the crowning of the queen Miss Margo Perry, freshman from Franklin, member of Delta Delta Delta. She was crowned by Sandra Sells last year's queen. Following her crowning Margo tapped members for Blue Key and Lancers.

Members of her court were: Sharon Lewis, Delta Zeta; Susan Dunn, Pi Beta Phi; Maxine Mills, Zeta Tau Alpha; Donna J. Wiley, Independent Women; and Karen Jones, Unaffiliated Women.

Ke-Ko-Nut Queen Margo Perry taps Jim Eskridge for membership into Blue Key.

The Concert Choir presented "The Messiah" during the Christmas season to the pleasure of all.

Fraternities decorate their houses in the spirit of Christmas.

Snow transforms the mall into an avenue of whiteness as this lone student walks toward the main building.

Winter changes the campus scene

Christmas at Franklin is celebrated in many different ways, in dormitories, and fraternity houses, club parties, spreads, and Christmas trees. There is a spirit of anticipation, of excitement and a true enjoyment of Christmas within the campus community.

Joan Schwebel and Jane Devening decorate the tree in the Cline Hall dining room.

Christmas parties highlight the week before vacation. These students relax beneath the decorated tree and engage in light conversation.

Special guests

Through the Student Activities series, and convocation programming, the students and faculty have the opportunity to hear the finest in entertainment and featured speakers.

Garrett Brown and Al Dana entertained the campus with folk-music as part of the Student-Council sponsored activity.

provide entertainment

The Oberlin Wind Ensemble visited our campus this winter to present a convocation concert.

The Four Preps were a highlight in the Entertainment Series sponsored by Student Council.

Louis Untermeyer, author and speaker, answers questions of these students.

Theater department presents fall production

The first production presented by the Theater Department this fall was Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House". The story concerned a young wife who was unable to achieve recognition as a person and was kept a child in her own house. The play was directed by Mary E. MacNiven, Assistant Professor of Theater.

The fall production of "A Doll's House" featured Sandy Hamilton, Ward Morehouse, Winfred Blevins and Berit Palmer.

In another scene from the same play are Sandy Hamilton and Ward Morehouse.

Springs brings flowers and queens

Beverly Exley, representing Pi Beta Phi, was crowned queen of the 1963 Junior Prom held at the Indiana University Medical Center.

Court members were: Sue Thompson, Delta Delta Delta; Betty Updike, Delta Zeta; Janice Brown, Independent Women; and Pat Rissler, Zeta Tau Alpha.

May Day activities

Doris Coffey, 1962 May Queen, crowns Johnnie Sue Suchovsky, Delta Delta Delta. Nancy Zellar, Delta Zeta; Pat Amour, Independent Women; Carol Sue Summers, Unaffiliated; 1963 Queen Johnnie Sue; Joyce Thompson, Pi Beta Phi; and Margaret Parker, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Though the May Day activities are usually held out-of-doors, rain forced the sing and crowning of the queen to move into the gymnasium. Parents and guests toured the campus, saw the queen crowned, attended parents days sponsored by the social organizations, and heard the groups compete in the annual May Sing.

Led by Rebecca Jacksteit, Pi Beta Phi won top honors among women's groups with its version of "Michael," and "The Green Leaves of Summer."

Phi Delta Theta, led by Jack Dalton takes first place in competition between fraternities, as they sang "Halls of Ivy" and "Moria."

Graduation is

Graduation is the end of formal education at Franklin College. The student has attained, it is hoped, a measure of intellectual curiosity which will carry him to further knowledge, whether in graduate school, or in an occupation. Graduation is a time of nostalgia. But more than that, it is a time to begin, to go forth and use what has been gained by four years at Franklin, a college of 'Christianity and Culture', which recognizes that both are needed to form a true spirit.

Parents and friends of the graduates watch as the students go forward to receive their diplomas. The commencement address means more to the graduates, for it is directed to them.

ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY

President Richardson seated in a familiar place behind his official desk.

The President

Few see this "inner sanctum" in the president's suite where President Richardson does much of his "thoughtful" work.

An office is as efficient as its secretary and Mrs. Jack Scherer keeps everything running smoothly for our chief executive.

President Richardson is never too busy to talk to a student. He welcomes Linda Daniels, a senior.

Presidents are like other people at home. President Richardson enjoys ice cream in the kitchen with small guests at the Christmas Party.

Always a gracious hostess, Mrs. Richardson takes a personal interest in all the many details so necessary to the affairs held in the President's Home.

It is with great regret that this will be the last time President and Mrs. Richardson will appear in the Almanack. President Richardson has resigned to accept appointment as executive secretary of the Board of Education and Publication of the American Baptist Convention.

In his 15 years as president, the assets of the college have increased to more than $6 million; the campus has been expanded; Elsey and Cline Halls built; an addition to the Gymnasium completed, and Bryan Hall renovated. The new library will be completed this summer. His administration has also been responsible for upgrading of the library budget and faculty salaries and enrichment of the curriculum with the introduction of the Liberal Studies Program.

Mrs. Richardson has been a gracious host to all the campus family, to the community and has done much to help her husband in the difficult job of being head of the college.

We will miss them and hope they will miss us too. Our best wishes and prayers go with them.

Pres. and Mrs. Richardson will move this summer or early fall to Valley Forge, Pa.

A high point of the Christmas season is the party at the President's Home for the children. Mrs. Richardson assists some of her small guests.

Dr. M. Alan Brown is Academic Dean of the College. Dean Brown's duties include guiding the curricular program as well as listening to faculty and student course problems.

The Deans

Dean of Students Edward O. Hascall guides the student, coordinates campus activities, works with various social organizations to plan unified cooperation, and serves on various committees relating to the students relationship to the college.

Gael Swing, Business Manager, handles the financial aspects of Franklin College, such as care of the dormitories, physical improvements of the campus, payments of fees and loan funds.

Dr. Richard Stainbrook, Vice-President of Development, is in charge of furthering the interests of the college through such devices as the recent television program publicizing Franklin. This is Dr. Stainbrook's first year as a member of the Administrative staff. He helps guide the planning and growth of the college.

Physical Education Department includes Asst. Professor Ruth Callon, Asst. Professor Wayne Gruber, Asst. Professor Herman Moyer, and Assoc. Professor and Athletic Director Stewart Faught.

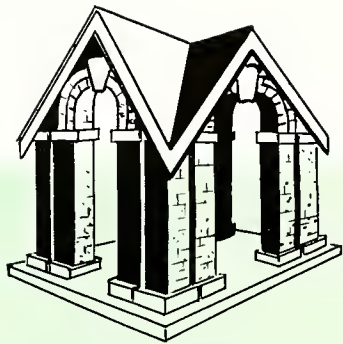

Professor Elijah L. Jacobs retires this year after 17 years of distinguished service to the college. Dr. Jacobs has been one of the most popular as well as scholarly teachers. He is a poet, in fact he looks like a poet with his white shocks of hair and craggy features, whose works have been printed in volumes and magazines nationally. His lectures not only challenge students in literature but are laced with bright witticisms that add sparkle and life to them.

The faculty and staff honored Dr. Jacobs and Mrs. Jacobs with a recognition dinner in May.

Students who have had the honor to be in his classes will remember Dr. Jacobs long after they have forgotten much of the subject matter.

As students of Franklin College we wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation to Dr. Jacobs for allowing us to be a part of his academic life.

SOCIAL

ORGANIZATIONS

Delta Delta Delta

The year was a busy and happy one for the members of Delta Delta Delta. Johnnie Sue Suchovsky reigned as May Queen; Debby Brooke was chosen Homecoming Queen, and Margo Perry was elected Kee-Ko-Nut Queen.

Tri-Deltas served on Student Court, as class officers, members of Laurels, Kappa Delta Pi, Alpha Phi Gamma, Theta Sigma Phi, as staff members on the Almanack, Franklin, and WFCI. Sandy Sells was named outstanding Freshman woman, and Debby Brooke was chosen sweetheart of Phi Delta Theta.

The annual Tri-Delt Carnival was enjoyed by the campus, as the girls worked toward raising funds for scholarships.

Tri-Deltas danced at their annual formal dinner dance, and at the pledge dance, which had a show business theme.

First Row: Gay Wiley, and Rita Sipe. Second Row: Kathie Meredith, Mary Esslinger, Callee Irish, Pam Wheeler, and Linda Daniels.

Mary Kay Parker, Debby Brooke, Karen Jordan, Sandy Sells, Phyllis Coffey, and Sue Faldt.

First row: Pam McCoy and Bobbie Ward. Second Row: Sue Judd, Linda Drake, Kathy Miller, Sue Henry, and Nancy Wamsley.

Delta Zeta

The members of Delta Zeta and the nine pledges enjoyed a bright year as they participated in various campus and sorority projects.

They returned to a newly furnished room in the chapter suite in Elsey Hall, and plunged into a round of active academic, social and extracurricular life. Delta Zetas received help from their officer's retreat, and were pleased with the visit of their National Field Secretary, Bette Brom. The pledges participated in a "walk-out," when they journeyed to the Delta Zeta chapter house at DePaul University.

Delta Zetas have members in many campus organizations. Betty Updike served as president of Panhellenic Council; Marcia Stubbs as a house council officer. The girls also have members of the staff of the Franklin, WFCI, as well as members on Student Council.

Delta Zetas also enjoyed social life, at their formal, "The Old Rose Ball," and their pledge dance, "Italian Wine Cellar."

Linda Cassidy and Pat Moorman

Seated: Bonnie Farmer, Janet Jones Harrington, Karen Shepard and Mimi Barnard. Standing: Marcia Stubbs.

Seated: Lyn Funke, Betty Bruneaur Updike. Standing: Gail Cahn, Alice Gates, and Janet Wilson.

Pi Beta Phi

An exciting and profitable year was enjoyed by the members of Pi Beta Phi. Becky Jacksteit led the chapter to top honors in the competitive May Sing activities; Bev Exley was Prom Queen. Pi Phis represented their fellow students on Student Council, Student Court, and as class officers, as well as having members in Phi Alpha Theta, Alpha Phi Gamma, Kappa Delta Pi, Theta Sigma Phi, Laurels, Gold Quill, Alpha, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

In addition to extracurricular activities, the Pi Phis had time to study, winning the Scholarship trophy for the ninth consecutive semester, and also received a national scholarship plaque.

College life included social life for the Pi Phis, as they danced at the "Pi Phi Playground," given by the pledges, and at the annual Carnation Ball.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Donna Hammer, Maxine Mills and Wanda Leffler.

A profitable and busy year was had by the members and pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha. Working with Phi Delta Theta, the chapter won top honors in the Homecoming house decoration competition. Pat Rissler was chosen Crescent Girl of Lambda Chi Alpha; Donna Hammer was elected Queen of the Delta Delta Delta carnival.

Zetas also served as cheerleaders, on Pep Council, Student Council, Student Court, Chi Beta Phi, Alpha Phi Gamma, Theta Sigma Phi, Kappa Delta Pi, and Gold Quill. The girls also participated on the Franklin and Almanack staffs, and on the staff of WFCL.

Social activities also crowd the calendar of Zeta Tau Alpha. An outer space theme was chosen as the theme for the annual pledge dance. The members also enjoyed the romantic atmosphere of their formal dinner-dance in April.

Seated: Lee Lewis, Neta Royer, Mary Lou Schenck and Amy Hadley. Standing: Margie Mailath, Carol Mellencamp, Becky Lind, and Mary Jean Mauer.

Seated: Ann Greesley, Sara Chorley and Mary Ann Fidler. Standing: Judi Hollows, Laurel Kastine, and Pam Leedle.

Franklin Independent Women

Masonic Home project, WFCI, and college choir were actively participated in by the Franklin Independent Women.

In the fall the FIW's held an outing for all new students, and had a date night. They planned for the all-campus square dance, and gave their annual faculty tea.

Ann Runyan, Carol Lane, Linda Hayes, Shirley Koepper, and Rosalie Henderson.

Nancy Ovi, Julie Garfield, Janice Brown, Helen Silber, Lora Wolfe, and Carol Wiltberger.

Standing: Dan DeLong and John Clancy. Seated: Arnold Maggard and Bernard Paquet.

Standing: Jeff Stewart, and Fred Swift. Seated: Ron Burnett, Jerry Ellis, and Hal Tidler.

Franklin Independent Men

Franklin Independent Men moved from their house on Hougham Street to a suite of rooms in Bryan Hall. This is part of a long-range plan to house all Independent Men in one dorm.

Independent Men were active in campus activities; the Franklin staff, college choir, and the various political clubs.

Standing: Dan Bozell, Mike Fulkerson, and Ron Fiesbeck. Seated: Ivan Lancaster, Jim Cocks and Gary Bland.

Kappa Delta Rho

Kappa Delta Rho spent a second busy year in their new house. They were active in Interfraternity Council, the intramural program, WFCI and play productions.

The Kappa Delts initiated nine pledges in the spring and Dr. Robert Robertson of the faculty.

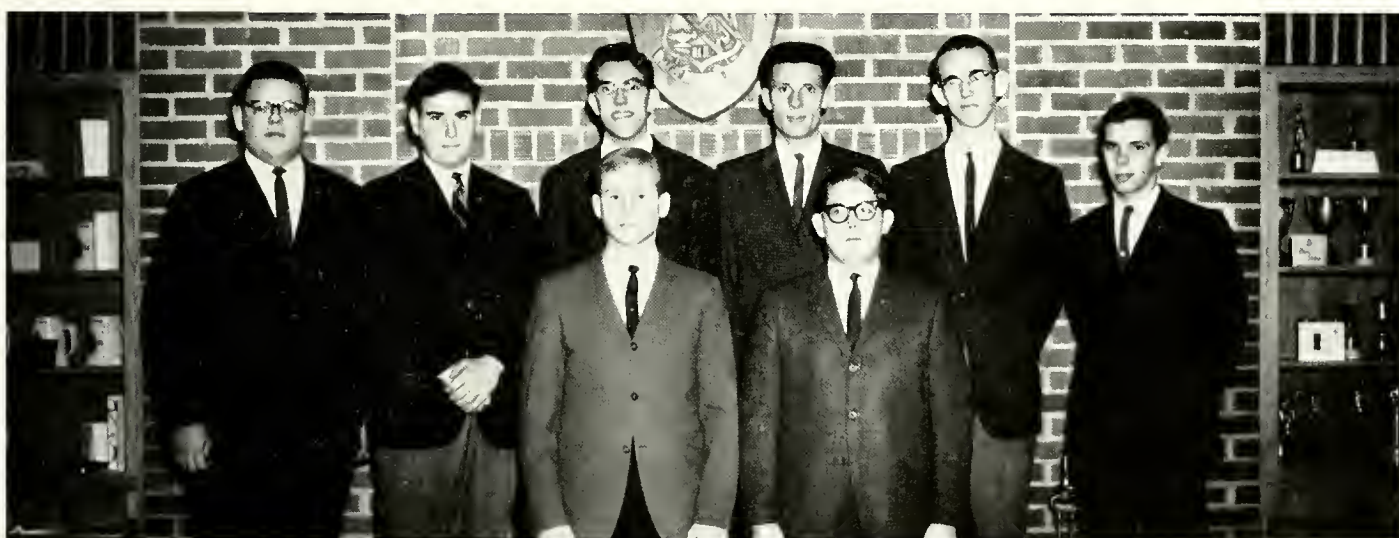

Standing: Peter McKinney, Bill Lincoln and Larry Bramblett.
Seated: Howard Lyons, Dick Ennis, Mrs. Chesser, Dave Leone and Jon Geuder.

Standing: Phillip Palmer, Bob Conner and Conrad Vasconcelos. Seated: Jim Eskridge, Gordon Bardos, George Halaukas and Mike Yost.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Participating in campus activities members of Lambda Chi Alpha spent a busy year. They entertained each of the sororities at an exchange night in which they played cards, danced, and all had a good time.

"Speak-easy" was the theme of the Lambda Chi's pledge dance. The pledges remodeled the social rooms to produce the proper atmosphere.

Phi Alpha Theta, Interfraternity Council, and the various political clubs were some of the organizations in which the Chi actives participated.

Standing: Larry Williams, Tom Clere, Doug Hendricks, John Chiarotti, Jim Dykhuizen, and Mickey Eller. Seated: Tom Keefer, Marshall Hemmingsen, Mike Miller, Bob Jarvis, Don Harris, Max Hufferd and Bill Hamilton.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon had another busy year. They were pleased with the new additions to the house especially the new dining room furniture.

Their annual State Day was held in Indianapolis with Sandy Corbin Tasker representing the Franklin chapter as Sweetheart of SAE.

The SAE's looked forward to their pledge dance as they held no Black and White this year.

SAE's participated in Blue Key, Lancers, Student Council, Pi Kappa Delta, and Kappa Delta Pi.

Standing: Jim Wolverton, Russ Gille, Jim Proctor, Bob Grogg, John Martin and Dave Redmond. Seated: Dave Shemwell, Bob Windhorst, Tony Priola, John Fife, and Keany Sloop.

Standing: Lynn Stewart, Gary Lewis, Ron Wilson, Charlie Baker, and John Favinger. Seated: Noel Marquis, Bill Gibbs, Jim Tasker and Craig Blair.

SPORTS

Football

Franklin College's 1963 football squad was indeed a credit to the institution. Under the direction of Stewart "Red" Faught, who completed his seventh year as varsity coach, they compiled a successful 6-3 overall record and tied for second place in the Hoosier College Conference.

Seniors Graham Updike, Ron Wilson, Al Harants, Hal Sampson, Joe Bollier, Phil Parks, Andy Zajac, and Ron Graham climaxed their college playing careers with their best season. In addition to the seniors there were 24 lettermen who will be returning next fall.

Sampson, Wilson, and Updike were honored by selection to the District 21 NAIA All-district team. The Grizzlies also placed Sampson, Updike, Wilson, Bob Ezell, and Bob Strong on the All-conference squad.

The most outstanding conquest of this year's campaign was the 37-14 shellacking which they handed to arch-rival Indiana Central to celebrate Homecoming.

An outstanding factor on this year's team was the excellent pass defense record which they compiled. The Grizzlies ranked 14th in the nation in this category.

Coach Faught holds traveling trophy high amid enthusiastic Grizzlies following the Homecoming victory over rival Indiana Central. I. C. play in foreground also displays his team's "enthusiasm."

Head coach Stewart Faught discusses strategy with veteran half-back Graham Updike during a practice session. Updike was later selected honorary co-captain by his teammates.

Senior halfback Andy Zajac hauls in a pass for a sizeable gain in the I. C. game.

End Mike Maguire is captured in this photograph just seconds before catching a pigskin aerial.

Warm fall weather, Ann Blumenthal cheering anxious players on the sideline of gridiron action at Goodell field during a typical Saturday afternoon at the start of the school year.

"Doggie" Updike carries the mail in the opening game of the season. This was a familiar sight during the four years of Updike's college career.

Jubilant players give evidence of one of the six Franklin football victories.

Bob Strong, who coach Faught calls "The best defensive half-back in the college's history," hauls down I. C. halfback. Strong was the principle reason for Franklin's outstanding pass-defense record.

Basketball

Steve Baker, Grizzly guard, is fouled by Earlham player as he drives. Rich Edwards and Bob Windhorst look on as the referee whistles the violation.

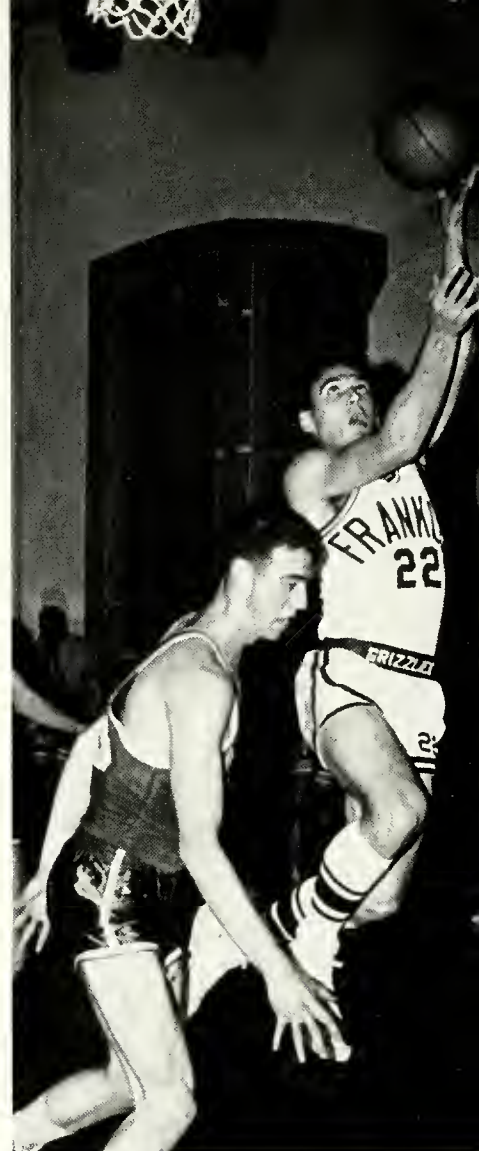

The Grizzlies of the hardwood completed a season filled with fun and, at times, disappointment. Their overall slate was 9-12 while they finished with a 5-5 Hoosier College Conference mark.

Coach Moyer completed his seventh year at the helm of the Grizzlies and seniors Gordon Lewis, Jim Younkin, and Sam Alford capped brilliant careers of service for Franklin College. Alford finished the season with a free throw percentage mark that placed him second in the nation and Younkin was close behind in that category, winding up third.

The Grizzlies lost the services of ace rebounder Rich Edwards, better known as "big man," at the semester break and consequently, the rest of the season they were underdogs for the most part. Freshman Bob Windhorst was a big surprise. He forced his way into the starting lineup early in the season and handled the boards capably after Edwards' departure. Mike Maguire, Steve McIntyre, and Steve Baker were good in spots and will anchor the team next year.

Jim Younkin moves in for a two pointer.

* Conference Game

Rich Edwards pumps in 2 as two Earlham defenders try in vain to contain him.

Rich Edwards, popularly referred to as "Big Man", and Bob Windhorst, hard working freshman forward, pull down rebound in early season game.

Two Franklin Grizzlies are struggling with the opponent for control of the ball.
